

1. If I sign up for a Do Not Call list, that means I no longer want to receive calls from ANYONE, including someone I might have done business with in the past.

2. It is a fixed principle of our Federal form of government that the States have the right to make laws more stringent than the central government. It is inappropriate (and indeed, I believe, unconstitutional) for the FCC to attempt to void state laws more strict than its own policy.